

Sky Zone trampoline park coming to metro-east

HIGHLIGHTS

Trampoline park will occupy part of former Hobby Lobby

Unnamed grocery chain will share space with Sky Zone

Both businesses set to open in September in Fairview Heights

BY TOBIAS WALL

twall@bnd.com

A trampoline park chain with two locations in the St. Louis area will bring a third to Fairview Heights.

According to the city's economic development director Mike Malloy, Sky Zone has signed a lease to occupy part of the old Hobby Lobby building at Crossroads Centre off Lincoln Trail.

Sky Zone's other St. Louis-area locations are at 17379 Edison Ave. in Chesterfield and at 631 Gravois Rd. in Fenton.

The rest of the building will house a grocery store, Malloy said. It wasn't immediately clear what store it would be.

Both Sky Zone and the grocery store are scheduled to open in September.

Trampoline parks have been on the collective mind in the metro-east lately: A brand new Altitude trampoline park in Glen Carbon that was scheduled to open earlier this month finally opened to the public Saturday.

ADVERTISING

Return to BND.com for updates to this story.

Tobias Wall: 618-239-2501, @Wall_BND

RELATED CONTENT

- Glen Carbon trampoline park now open

MORE METRO-EAST NEWS

SUGGESTED FOR YOU

A banner advertisement for Walgreens. On the left, there is a blurred image of a Walgreens store exterior. On the right, the Walgreens logo is displayed in its signature red script font. A small 'x' icon is visible in the top right corner of the banner.