Sky Zone in Fairview Heights was scheduled to open its 40,000-square-foot facility Saturday, May 13 in Fairview Heights.

The facility is the first out of the more than 170 parks in the Sky Zone system to introduce its new trampoline-based laser tag attraction, according to a news release. Sky Zone Fairview Heights also has a state-of-the-art warrior course, similar to what people see on American Ninja Warrior, two foam zone pits, a challenge zone that includes jousting pits and a slack line, in addition to classic activities such as freestyle jump, ultimate dodgeball, and SkyFit.

The Sky Zone Fairview Heights is at 10850 Lincoln Trail inside of the former Hobby Lobby.
